Writing Successful OLT Fellowship Proposals

Applications for OLT’s Fellowships Programme are open!
If you are thinking about applying for an OLT Fellowship, this workshop is a great opportunity to find out more about the Fellowships Programme, application requirements and how to write a successful proposal. Attendees will have the opportunity to consider successful proposals and do some preliminary planning.

The workshop will answer the following questions:

- What are the application requirements?
- What is the timeline for submitting an application?
- What are the features of a successful proposal?

About the Fellowships Programme: OLT’s Fellowships Programme advances learning and teaching in higher education by supporting a group of leading educators to undertake strategic, high-profile activities in areas of importance to the sector.

There are two types of OLT Fellowships:

- National Teaching Fellowships are awarded to prominent scholars in their disciplinary fields, recognised by their home institutions for their capacity to make significant contributions to educational leadership into the future.
- National Senior Teaching Fellowships are awarded to outstanding scholars in their fields, recognised by their home institutions for their existing and continuing leadership roles in university learning and teaching.
