Student feedback informs the understanding of teaching strengths and weaknesses and provides ideas about how courses and teaching can be improved. SECaT results are also used for decisions regarding recruitment, continuing employment and promotion, and for decisions about courses, programs, and many aspects of curriculum and the student experience.

Your responses to SECaT evaluations are confidential to the ITaLI Evaluation Unit. Identifying information is not made available to academic staff. By agreeing to complete this SECaT evaluation, you agree to provide constructive feedback (positive or negative) which is intended to help staff to improve the quality of teaching and learning at UQ. In doing so, you are also aware of your obligations as a UQ student. For more information please visit: itali.uq.edu.au/content/information-students
