

The University of Queensland Higher Education Academy Fellowship

DR LISA FITZGERALD

“ This has been a great opportunity to consider what I have achieved and where I’ve come from as well as where I want to go. I have greatly valued the opportunity to work with colleagues in a community of practice where others are as passionate and value their teaching as much as I do. ”

Lecturer
School of Public Health
Faculty of Health and Behavioural Sciences

My favourite teaching tools

- Post-it notes
- Community
- Adobe connect

Programs

- Social determinants of health as a threshold concept
- Students as partners in the co-construction of curriculum

Expertise

Social sciences in public health

Social determinants of health

Technology enhanced active teaching and learning for external students

Community based learning

Students as Partners

Memorable teaching moment

In 2013 in Week 1 I walked into our tiered lecture theatre and asked all my students to pick up their books and follow me. We walked out of the theatre and found a teaching space with movable chairs and tables and began a conversation.

That day began as an adventure into the unknown, but became an incredibly rewarding teaching experience where my students and I discussed, debated and explored the social perspectives of public health.

