

30 quick questions that may assist when reflecting on your CBL tutoring

When considering your answer to these questions reflect on how do you know?

PREPARATION	Yes	No	?
Do I prepare adequately for my tutorials?
TUTORIAL STRUCTURE
Are my tutorials well structured?
Is time managed well in my tutorials?
Do I effectively keep discussion on track?
Do I speak more or less than I would like?
Do I speak preferentially to some students more than others?
LEARNING ENVIRONMENT
Do I create a safe learning environment for my students?
Do I give students enough time to think?
Are any learning activities I use/suggest appropriate to the students' abilities and experience?
Do I encourage students to ask questions or clarify concepts they do not understand?
STUDENTS
What is the level of engagement of students in my tutorials?
Do I provide opportunities for all students to participate?
Do the students participate actively in the learning?
How do I know if the students are learning?
Do students seem confident about what they have learned?
Do I support students in their CBL roles?
CLINICAL REASONING
Do I encourage students to engage in clinical reasoning?
Am I following a process in my tutorial that encourages clinical reasoning?
Do I encourage students to make their clinical reasoning visible?
FEEDBACK
Do I provide students with effective feedback?
Am I giving students enough feedback?
Do I provide opportunities for students to share feedback regarding ttutorials?
PROFESSIONAL/PERSONAL ATTRIBUTES
When I share my clinical experiences, do I reflect best and current practice?
Do I model professional behaviour?
Do I act sensitively to students - mindful of their backgrounds, experiences or prior knowledge?
Do I actively listen to students?
Do I communicate clearly?
What is my non-verbal communication like?
Is my language appropriate and encouraging?
Do I demonstrate a compassionate approach to patients when I discuss cases?			